ABOUT

I consider myself to be an ambitious, creative, and open-minded person. From my past experiences I learned the value of teamwork and how to be efficient within a group. I see myself as a sociable person and I am motivated by team effort. Additionally, from the books I have read I learned to see situations from different perspectives, how to be motivated, dedicated, to think outside the box and to be determined to overcome my limits in order to accomplish my goals.
